

Explore the Fourth-Quarter of your life with Paul Arnott

When: Friday July 28, 2017

Where: St Clement's Kingston

Who: Open to all Christians in or approaching the Fourth-Quarter

Cost: $20 (includes lunch) payable when booking

RSVP: St Clement's church office on 03 6229 7678; or email contact@stclementskingston.org.au

Fourth-Quarter is a way of describing the 60's plus phase of life we all come to sooner or later. Paul Arnott heads up Q4Connection for national cross denominational organisation Christian Ministry Advancement (CMA) and has been helping to develop this new initiative since February last year. He is in his Fourth-Quarter himself and has grappled with many of the issues of this sometimes-tricky phase of life.

The Lord wants us to continue to use our life experience and gifts for the sake of God's kingdom, no matter what age we are. Q4 has collected many stories of Australian Christians from around the nation who are doing a wide variety of things in their Fourth-Quarters: coaching and mentoring young people through groups like Kids Hope; serving on church vestries, boards or the boards of Christian Not-for-profits; being part of a Men's Shed; establishing a retreat centre for Christian leaders; serving in the Army Reserve; or teaching English as a foreign language. We will hear some of these stories during our Fourth-Quarter day together.

Paul Arnott served in parish ministry around the diocese from 1986 until the end of 2001.